To design an InstallXML Classic package from a folder or file, perform the following steps: Select the InstallXML Classic command-line tool under InstallShield Installation Fundamentals workspace. Type the folder name or the file name of the folder or file to install on the command line. Type an installation folder name, if you want to install the package to a folder other than the default folder. Type a product key, if you have one, for the CreateVersion parameter. Product keys are listed on the InstallShield website. Choose InstallShield 2015 or later in the Version drop-down list. Choose Release in the type drop-down list. Click the Run button to create the package. Sigerclaim was originally designed to create the installation files and also validate the operating system and .NET Framework version information. If you're running Windows 8, you can install it on that operating system. Later, only the InstallShield Setup Studio product was created. Today, Sigerclaim can only install the operating system and .NET Framework on Windows 8 and Windows 10. The next-generation InstallShield Installation Fundamentals tool extends the functionality of the Sigerclaim product. A web site for the new InstallShield Installation Fundamentals tool has been created: To create an InstallXML Classic package, use the InstallXML command-line tool with the INSTALLXML command. You can use the INSTALLXML command to create an InstallXML Classic package, run the tool from the command line, or create an InstallShield project from a file or folder to create an InstallXML Classic package.
